

MORENDAT INSTITUTE OF
OIL AND GAS

COURSE LEVEL I - IV

INTRODUCTION

Round the world, frequent fire accidents and catastrophes wreak wanton havoc on the environment, property, and human life. Often, poor and unprofessional response to fire situations results from a lack of knowledge and relevant skills in fire management. The American National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) standards are the foundation for this high-level training

WHY TRAIN AT MIOG?

Live Fire and Rescue Training equipment, the only one of its kind in the region, is used. It can simulate different fire types, is environmentally friendly and gives students real life fire experience. A self-contained breathing apparatus filling station is further fitted for recharging used breathing apparatus.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

1. New entrants to fire service;
2. Those charged with fire safety management in organisations e.g. institutions of learning, government institutions, Counties and private firms;
